CLAIMS U. S. NOW BUILDING AIR BASE FOR GREAT BRITAIN

Senator Taft of Ohio States It Is Being Constructed In Scotland

LEASE-LEND ACT

Secretary of Navy Knox Denies U. S. Navy Engaged In
"Shooting War"

By Robert A. McGill
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 12—Senator Taft (R., Ohio), said today he has been reliably informed that the United States is constructing a naval and air base in Scotland for Great Britain.

A leader of the Senate Non-Intervention Bloc, Taft said this information was received voluntarily after he declared in the Senate Friday that he had been informed that the United States is constructing a naval and air base for Great Britain in Northern Ireland.

It was learned meanwhile that Secretary of the Navy Knox admitted before a secret session of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee that a naval and air base is being built in Northern Ireland by American contractors and workmen under the lease-lend act.

Knox categorically denied reports that units of the United States Navy had "engaged in a shooting war" with German naval vessels. But several members of the committee revealed that he admitted that an American destroyer had dropped depth charges over what was believed to have been a German submarine.

Knox was reported to have told the committee that the incident occurred during the night while the destroyer was picking up survivors of a torpedoed British ship; three depth charges were dropped when the ships detectors picked up the vibrations of an approaching submarine.

Committee members added, however, that Knox emphasized that the charges were dropped purely as a defensive measure, that the submarine was not seen and that it was not ascertained whether it had been hit.

The Secretary of the Navy was summoned before the committee to testify regarding a resolution by Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.), requesting the committee to investigate the reports that the Navy had engaged in actual combat with German naval forces.

Wheeler indicated, meanwhile, that he would ask the committee to resubmit Knox and question the Secretary regarding his information that the Navy is making arrangements with Great Britain to take over patrol and

Penna. Motor Police Catch 43 in Raid in Bensalem Township

Forty-three men were caught in a raid on an alleged gambling house at Bristol and Newportville Roads, Bensalem Township, early this morning. The raid was staged by Penna. Motor Police from barracks located at Langhorne and Doylestown. The troopers were in charge of Corporal Peter Groblunas, of the Doylestown barracks.

The house, a two and one-half story brick dwelling, was recently rented by people giving addresses in Philadelphia. It is stated that an elaborate gambling outfit was installed along with pool tables and various gambling devices.

When the Troopers surrounded the place at 1:30 this morning, it was found to be running full blast and when the officers gained an entrance they found 42 men in addition to the proprietor.

Stanley Gabrick, 38, Frankford, was identified as the proprietor and he was held in $500 bail for court charged with "setting up and maintaining a gambling place."

All of the 42 men gave Philadelphia addresses and they were each fined $10.50.

Those taken into custody were transported from the scene of the raid in a bus to the office of Justice of Peace, John Brennan, Trevoese.

Claim German Shock Troops Break Through Bogs

Berlin, July 12—German shock troops have broken through the bogs of the "wet zones" in Russia's Stalin Line on the Baltic front, Chancellor Hitler's GHQ announced today, while the Luftwaffe is blasting a way forward on the Central and Ukrainian fronts.

The marshy natural defenses of the Stalin Line on the northern sector were penetrated by Nazi infantry operating more than 350 miles from the German border.

The Rev. John P. Cranston, Jr., and his committee, is outlining a fine program.

EXALTED RULER GOES TO ELKS CONVENTION

William G. Wichser Will Attend Sessions To Be Held
In Philadelphia

EXPECT BIG GATHERING

William G. Wichser, exalted ruler of Bristol lodge of Elks, is leaving with Mrs. Wichser for the Elks National Convention which opens at Philadelphia on Monday.

Mr. Wichser stated that from all advance reports received by him, this will be one of the largest Conventions in the history of this 73-year-old fraternity. Much of the deliberations will be devoted to national defense measures under the direction of the Elks National Defense Commission and plans will be formulated whereby the Order of Elks can assist the government in the present emergency.

It is expected that some of the most important leaders of the government defense program will be in attendance to address the Convention as well as speak to nation-wide audiences over radio networks.

Among those who have been invited to speak are Vice-president Henry A. Wallace, Brigadier-General Richardson of the Army, Admiral Yarnell of the Navy, Professor Elliott of the Office of Production Management and Mr. Edwards, Under-Secretary of the Treasury.

"Philadelphia," said Mr. Wichser, "was selected as the Convention City this year because of its historic background. It is a fitting and happy one, for in Philadelphia, where our forefathers met in the early, turbulent days of our country, we, as patriotic Americans and members of a great

Children Give Program As Bible School Ends Sessions

The Daily Vacation Bible School held in the Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour during the past three weeks, came to a close yesterday, with a final program given on Thursday evening.

The faculty consisted of the following: Miss Georgette R. Clavarella, principal; Mrs. A. G. Solla, Mrs. G. Colville and the Rev. Arthur Sargis, Junior and Intermediate department. The Rev. Sargis, pastor of Eddington Presbyterian Church, offered his services to assist the principal, the second and third weeks.

Miss Sarah J. White, Cornwells Heights, assisted by Miss Rita Florio, taught in the primary department.

The school was held for three weeks. Many things were made by the children, the boys making door-stops of plywood, letter openers, etc.; the girls embroidered many beautiful pieces. The little ones made Noah's Ark, a display of handwork was shown Thursday night at the closing exercises.

Thursday evening's closing exercises included: Prayer, the Rev. Sargis; hymn, "All For Me," congregation; numbers by primary department, Miss S. White, and junior and intermediate department, Miss G. Clavarella—The Church's One Foundation, memory sentence prayers—Juniors and intermediates; piano solo, Marie Castanti; chorus, "Everybody Happy." Following Jesus, juniors; Psalm 15, juniors and intermediates; "Jesus My Song Today," juniors and intermediates; merit cards presented 10 children for outstanding work done, Vilma Vivern, first highest honor; offertory prayer, the Rev. Sargis; hymn, "The Name of Jesus," congregation.

The speaker, C. Burnley White, spoke to the girls and boys about books, showing them three different sizes of books. One was quite small, the second a Bible, the third a very large book a dictionary. He told how one could find all the information he wants in the dictionary, but cannot find anything about God. He then held the Bible up and told the children how "the Bible speaks to us of Jesus, the One who can save us." Then from the Bible he unbound a long ribbon, the first part being black showing how black is sin, the second red, when "Jesus washed us with His blood," and one white, showing "how we can become pure, after we accept Him."

Yesterday morning the children met at 10 o'clock. Ralston Hedrick and Mrs. A. G. Solla had moving pictures taken, which will be shown at a later date in the church. The children, accompanied by their teachers, then went to Grundy's Park, where more pictures were taken, and games played, and refreshments served.

Vocational guidance, the Rev. Clifford G. Pollock.

LAD OF 16 SAVES MACHINERY AND GOAT AS LIGHTNING FIRES LARGE BARN ON THE BROWN ESTATE FARM, CORNWELLS HTS.

Sidney Flaxman, Two Younger Brothers, and Neighbor Lad Stunned by Bolt—Firemen from Two Cornwells Companies Fight Blaze — Barn, Hay, Feed, Mowing Machine Are Destroyed — Cattle Were in Pasture at the Time

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, July 12—Stunned as were three other boys pulling weeds in a field when lightning struck a barn here yesterday afternoon, a lad of 16 years, as soon as he could co-ordinate thought and muscle, rushed into his father's barn and saved a tractor, plow, new corn planter and a goat from destruction. The two-story structure, together with five tons of hay, feed, and a mowing machine, were destroyed.

The loss is estimated at $3,000.

The lad, whose shirt caught fire as he attempted to save some of the farm machinery, he immediately tearing it from his back and flinging it to the ground, is Sidney Flaxman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Flaxman. The family resides on the farm owned by Mrs. Andrew Brown, Street Road, near State Road.

The storm had scarcely gotten under way, just before 4.30 o'clock, when, as Sidney, his two younger brothers, Albert and Charles, and a neighbor boy, Joseph Seabridge, were pulling weeds in a tomato patch 1,000 feet from the barn, were stunned by a flash of lightning. As soon as they were able to realize what had happened, one of the quartet notice smoke emanating from the large barn on the tract.

Rushing to the structure, Sidney found it almost instantly a mass of flames, and at once started the tractor, running it out to a place of safety, then going back for the corn planter and plow. Within a few minutes firemen from Cornwells Company, No. 1, and Union Company, arrived at the scene, the fire-fighters aiding with one of the heavier pieces of equipment. A pet goat which Sidney found eating in the barn, was also led out, only to run in again; and a second time this was taken to a safe distance from the blazing structure.

The storm which caused the fire, also provided a water supply for fighting the conflagration, firemen pumping water from a ditch near State Road.

One of the firemen was able to save a setting hen. The other chickens were located in buildings at a distance from the barn; and the cattle were in pasture. Cats which were in the building when the fire broke out, came leisurely out some time later, when the heat became too intense.

The barn was stone, stable high; the second story being frame. It measured approximately 125 by 45 feet. At no time were other buildings on the place in danger, they being located at a sufficient distance for safety.

The bolt which caused the destruction, also melted a telephone cable nearby, and disrupted telephone service for a number of subscribers in the section. Within a short time, telephone company employees were dispatched to the scene to make repairs.

Traffic was blocked off from a section of Street Road for a time, as firemen continued to pour streams of water on the burning debris.

At the time of the fire Mrs. Flaxman was away, and her husband was at his employment in Philadelphia; the three sons and their neighbor being the only ones on the premises at the time.

Await Recommendation of Price Control by Pres't

By William S. Neal
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 12—(INS)—Congress will not inaugurate price control legislation to halt spiraling living costs until President Roosevelt is ready to recommend such action, authoritative congressional sources said today.

Although recently it was reported that the White House was ready to sanction submission of a price-control bill, one high official said today that the President has been so overwhelmed with the international situation that he is not yet ready to act.

The appeal of Leon Henderson, OPM price administrator, for prompt action by Congress to avoid the perils of inflation, have thus far fallen on deaf ears in Congress. Instead, serious opposition has been encountered among farm groups.

Action of the House in summarily rejecting anti-defense strike legislation, together with authority for the President to seize and operate defense plants, was construed by some Congressional observers as putting a damper on price-control measures.

Influence of organized labor on legislation was clearly demonstrated in the House fight. Labor, together with organized farm interests, could kill any price-control bill, it was generally conceded.

Henderson, who warned a House Committee that the cost of living is bound to rise and urged rent control in this boom-city, was believed to have used the Washington situation to renew his plea for general price-control legislation.

If you have a house to rent, advertise it in The Courier.

RUSSIAN WHEAT

Arguing that a Nazi victory in Russia would critically reduce the supply of food for the Russian people and perhaps bring about a severe famine is the fact that Russia since czarist days has not been a ranking exporter of wheat.

Prior to the World War Russia sometimes led all surplus producing countries in wheat exports. This usually was at the expense of the peasants who subsisted on poor black bread so that the nation could sell wheat to obtain foreign exchange.

After the war Russia mechanized agriculture and increased its wheat production. But little of it has been exported, partly because Russian gold production was expanded sufficiently to provide adequate foreign exchange.

It would appear therefore that whatever wheat Germany may take out of Russia will be cereal that Russia has itself been consuming, with the effect of reducing standards of living that must be pitifully low.

BASEBALL INTEREST

There is always something bobbing up for the good of baseball. Invariably, it is a surprise. Last year it was the fall of the Yankees. This year it is the Yankee comeback. The two important factors in it—Joe Di-Maggio's hitting and the spectacular team record of home runs in twenty-five games in a row—have been all to the good too.

Interest in Joe's hits in forty-four consecutive games, the nine homerun batters, and the club's spectacular rise to a commanding position at the top is not limited to Yankee stadium, or to the circuit. The Yanks are hot stuff, again, and there is talk about it in every city, town, and village.

The least that a people who are not without their trials can do is to say to the Yanks, "Thanks for the show." Then it will be all right for folk hereabout to turn to minor worries and express the hope that baseball's "anything-can-happen" rule does not invade too many of the mundane spheres of life.

BRITISH BOMBS

A man in the street has put Britain's aerial attacks on the invasion coast and German industrial centers in a nutshell. "You cannot tell me," he said, "that a 500-pound or a half-ton bomb dropped from a British plane on a German port or city does not cause as much damage as a 500-pound or a half-ton Nazi bomb on a British port or city."

The British assaults have been going on virtually unchallenged for a month. There is no reason why they should not continue for some time—certainly while the German and Russian armies battle for supremacy, and perhaps for some time after the issue in the East has been decided.

Almost daily comes the report that the British effort is being stepped up. Perhaps 400 or 500 planes are being sent over two or three times a day with the cargoes of death and destruction. They pound at centers in the Ruhr and Rhine valleys by night, at the invasion coast and at Bremen, the Kiel canal and at Sylt by day and night. The Nazi propaganda ministry admits there has been "some damage." But the man in the street knows. He has seen pictures of what Nazi raids on England did and has read the casualties. A big bomb blows two blocks to smith-ereens—in Germany or in England,

PUPPET LOVE by Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr.

SYNOPSIS

In all his twenty-four years, Christopher Allen Bishop had stood in awe of his family name and all it represented—bluebloods and millions! But today, he had gotten fed up with the whole artificial set-up, given up his $25-a-week "job," sent a farewell note to his aristocratic mother, and started out on his own in a roadster.
On the road to adventure, he picks up Joe Kane, a hitch-hiker. Against Joe's better judgment, they stop at a questionable lunchroom where Christopher's pocket is picked. The latter retrieves his wallet but a free-for-all ensues with Christopher and Joe the victors. The boys part company in Joe's home-town of Cressville but, before leaving, Joe gives Christopher a card advertising "Kamp Kossy Komfort" saying, "This is where I'll be. If you need a friend just yell for Joe."
Driving along, the squealing strains of an organ came to Christopher.
Could that bleating be "The Blue Danube"? His ear for harmony outraged, Christopher goes in search of the "musician," and finds himself at a "Society Circus for the Benefit of Children's Hospital." On the side-lines, he comes upon a shabby trailer on the back of which a marionette show is being given;
a satire featuring a society butterfly prouetting in a dizzy whirl.
From inside the trailer comes that awful organ noise. Christopher knocks at the door of the trailer.
The lovely, but grime-streaked, face of a girl appears. "I really think such a lovely lady deserves better accompaniment," Christopher says. "You wouldn't look so smooth either, if you'd driven this thing a hundred miles this morning, changed a tire in a ditch and then uncoupled this trailer to give

25th Anniversary Banquet
Conducted By The P. O. of A.

A number of guests brought greetings to members of Camp 89, Patriotic Order of Americans, on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of that lodge on Thursday evening.

The occasion was marked by a banquet served in the dining room of the home of Washington Camp, No. 789, P. O. S. of A.

The toast-mistress, Mrs. Louis Townsend, recording secretary, extended a welcome, and introduced the following guests of honor: Mrs. Charles Davis, Trenton, N. J., past national president; Mrs. J. Delano, Yardley Camp, district president, and Mr. Delano; Miss Caroline Worrell, president of Yardley Camp; Edward Ogden, president of Camp 789, P. O. S. of A.

Four charter members were present, these including Mrs. Wesley Blinn, Trenton; Mrs. William Moss, Mrs. Sylvester Brady and Mrs. Louis Townsend. This group was also presented to the assemblage.

The 35 for whom places were arranged, later enjoyed guitar and mouth organ selections by Gilbert Lovett; and piano numbers by Mrs. Anthony Pfaffenrath. The group also enjoyed modern and old-time dances.

The dining-hall was decorated for the occasion in the national colors. Dinner was arranged by Mrs. Samuel Robbins and Mrs. Gilbert Lovett.

FASHION PARADE

By Orry-Kelly

(Famous Hollywood Stylist Writing For International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—We haven't talked about that "something borrowed" for a long time, but that doesn't indicate that the borrowing hasn't been going on from day to day.

I was buying a tie in the men's shop across from the Studio the other noon and there was Priscilla Lane trying on boys' white sweat shirts. It seems that Priscilla wears them with her shorts at the beach or for slipping on after a game of tennis. She told me she likes an all-white outfit best with the shirt topped a pleated white sharkskin skirt. You may take this as the hottest tip on "fashion odd and unusual" of the week.

Then there is the present craze for yellow. Sometimes I think I'm seeing sun spots there's so much of this color everywhere. They're even combining it with black. Maureen O'Hara has an evening gown with scalloping and a bouffant skirt in yellow. Brenda Marshall likes a yellow crepe pillbox and bag with a black crepe daytime dress. A yellow silk shirt tops black linen slacks, and so on.

Jewelry follows the airiness of summer by appearing in light weight costume versions. Such as the small plastic pendants Greer Garson wears in her ears, and the beautifully wrought silver "Aladdin's Lamp" with ruby flame that hugs Marguerite Chapman's suit lapels.

There's also a complete story in gingham which is a Hollywood choice 24 hours a day. It's liked in soft suits and dancing frocks, and Kathryn Grayson reports that she sleeps in a gingham nightgown. Gingham also for the luxuriant trim on a smart dress Virginia Field wears in "Singapore Woman." Her wide-brimmed sailor is edged with it and Virginia also wears a wide Gibson girl bow of the gingham under her hat.

Everyone is following Perc Westmore's scientific method for getting a perfect sun-tan. Perc has worked it all out even to the exact number of minutes one should lie in the sun. With so many even bronzes white dresses appear in every wardrobe. There is nothing more striking than white against a tanned skin.

Another bit of news from the Coast is the appearance of copper jewelry. Since a noted physician reported that wearing of copper keeps the system alkaline and purifies the blood stream, health is finding a glamorous ally in wide bracelets and clever earrings, Ida

Lupino is wearing matching bracelets, one on each wrist, combining shiny strips of copper with narrow sections of California redwood.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

What happens when a maniacal murderer runs amok in the home of a wealthy dowager? You'll learn the grim answer when you see "The Nurse's Secret," the exciting Warner Bros. mystery hit now playing at the Grand Theatre.

Under the present order of things as they are done in Hollywood, one man's work for 100 days would produce only enough film for a minute's screen time—or approximately 90 feet of completed product. This figure varies, of course, with scoffers branding it as absurd exaggeration and others terming it a very conservative estimate. However, the statistics are drawn from no less reliable a source than the production charts of Alexander Korda's "That Hamilton Woman!" attraction at the Grand Theatre, Sunday.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Two of the screen's most popular youngsters, Jane Withers and Jackie Cooper are co-starring at the Bristol Theatre today in "Her First Beau" with a cast of more than unusual ability appearing in support. Lesser players in this comedy of youthful antics and romances include Edith Fellows, Josephine Hutchinson, William Tracy, Martha O'Driscoll, Edgar Buchanan.

Una O'Connor and Jonathan Hale. Eddie Dean appears in "Rollin' Home To Texas." Tomorrow the feature is "Penny Serenade."

RITZ THEATRE

Edward G. Robinson moved his beard from his chin to his chest in his current opus, Jack London's "The Sea Wolf," which opened yesterday at the Ritz. Ida Lupino and John Garfield are co-starring.

It was a return to his native element, it was suggested to him. "No," he replied, wiping brine from his coat. "It's a compromise. Wolf Larsen, the gent I play in the picture, is as strong an emotional part as it is physical."

33 DRIVERS TO TRY AND QUALIFY FOR STOCK CAR RACES

Entries Are Still Being Received For Tests At Langhorne

BIG EVENT JULY 20TH

First Qualifying Heat Race Scheduled To Get Underway At 2.30 P. M.

Langhorne Speedway officials announced today that 33 drivers will attempt to qualify this Sunday for the 200-mile International stock car race, Sunday, July 20th.

With entries pouring in at an unprecedented clip, speedway operators deemed it advisable to set aside two special qualifying days. Drivers who fail to put in an appearance this Sunday will have another opportunity to qualify on Saturday, July 19th.

In line with the policy in vogue at Indianapolis, qualifiers on opening day are to receive precedence over late comers. As a result, the driver hanging up the fastest time in the qualifying heats, Sunday, will automatically receive the pole in the big race.

First qualifying heat race is scheduled to get under way at 2.30 p. m., Sunday, and the starting field will include such top-ranking drivers as Ted Nyquist, Reading, Pa.; Lloyd Seay, Atlanta, Ga.; Bill France, Daytona Beach, Fla.; and Roy Hall, of Atlanta. Starting positions in the heat races will be assigned according to the sequence in which entries were received.

Also on hand, Sunday, will be such well-known Eastern drivers as Walt Keiper, Trenton, N. J., fifth place finisher in last year's stock car race at Langhorne; Jim Stonebraker, Hyattsville, Md., winner of a 50-mile stock car race at Richmond, Va., on July 4th, and Fred Dagavar, New York City, a front-ranking contender in the May 30th stock car race at Allentown.

Other well-known participants will include George Lazarevich, Guilford, Conn.; William Strauss, Hellertown, Pa.; Roy Shellhamer, Bethlehem, Pa.; E. J. Makoby, Essington, Pa.; Dobe Powell, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Doc Benton, Arlington, Va.; Charles Kephart, Elkins Park, Pa., and Jack Russell, Silver Creek, N. Y.

The remainder of Sunday's starting field will include Ken Butler, Prestige, Wis.; Jimmy Fearick, Newark, N. J.; George Sholtis, Trenton, N. J.; Bud Woodward, Trenton, N. J.; Walt Frank, Philadelphia; Russell Reed, Collegeville; Buddy Bresnen, Trenton, N. J.; William Munn, Somerdale, N. J.; H. C. Sellers, Chatsworth, Ga.; Jess Seaman, Park Ridge, N. J.; Billy Jones, Savage, Md.; Felix Wilkes, Ringoes, N. J.; Fred Neumeister, Clinton, N. J.; Walter Sostkiewicz, Sellersville, Pa.; William Kritsch, Mickey Finn, Walt Schneider and Al Laverio, all of Philadelphia.

POSTPONE BOUTS BOOKED BY ST. ANN'S FOR MONDAY

The amateur boxing bouts scheduled for the St. Ann's A. A. arena, Monday night, have been called off.

Inability to book top-notch bouts because of the number of amateur bouts being staged in other sections caused the postponement.

According to Match-maker Racagnio, the bout will be held, Wednesday night, July 23.

CALL GAME OFF WHEN GROUNDS ARE TOO WET

The scheduled game between Fleetwings and Diamond was called off last night by Umpire Walt Miller because of wet grounds.

The Legion, Jr.s, tilt between Bristol and Langhorne, was called off when the Langhorne team failed to put in an appearance, only two players showing up. Landreth's field was in condition to play.

Duties Considered of Chaplain In the Field

have a much more personal contact with the men of our armed forces. Opportunities for this were well afforded me while enroute and at the Tennessee maneuvering grounds. A substantial supply of stationery was passed out to the men so that they might maintain contact with the "folk back home." At the end of the various days travel after camp had been established, efforts were often made to secure magazines from the local Red Cross Chapter; these were in turn offered to the men to aid them in wiling away idle hours.

During the six weeks of field duty I had the privilege of conducting six religious services at which there was a total attendance of 1980. At the same time my colleague, Chaplain Karl L. Darkey, conducted numerous services which were also well attended. Catholic Mass, by a Catholic chaplain, was read each Sunday for the men of the regiment with this faith.

The men were given various religious tracts, gospels and, for those requesting them, New Testaments were distributed. All possible efforts, under field conditions were made to strengthen and establish in the hearts of these fine men the need of Divine guidance and faith.

The month of June, during which time the actual maneuvers were carried on, found the chaplains quite busy men. Daily visits were made to the Camp Forrest hospital in order that mail might be brought to the men of the regiment confined there. Efforts were put forth at the time of these visits to cheer the men and to bring religious guidance wherever desired and needed. The chaplains assisted in evacuating both enlisted men and officers from the hospital and returning them to their respective organizations. In the carrying out of these services some 2000 miles of Tennessee highways and back roads were covered.

Many times during this period, the chaplains were called upon to ease burdened hearts because of reports that reached the men of serious illness or death at home. The men were not allowed leaves until an investigation through the office of the chaplains had verified reports. The men are constantly urged to call upon the chaplains with any and all their problems.

The Convention will open in Independence Hall with a patriotic musical program including the famous Madrigal Singers and the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. It will close on Thursday with an illuminated night parade and water carnival on the Schuylkill River. An attendance of 50,000 Elks is expected.

Claims U. S. Now Building Air Base for Great Britain

convoy duty in the waters from Iceland to Northern Ireland and Scotland. The Montann, who predicted the occupation of Iceland by the United States before it was announced by President Roosevelt, said he had been informed of the plans for the Navy to relieve British war vessels in the Iceland area "from unquestionable authority."

Taft, in an interview, said he had been informed that the George A. Fuller Co., of New York, is participating in the contracts for the construction of the air and naval base in Scotland. He added that his informant said that several of the company's operators of steam shovels and other excavating machinery have been sent to Scotland.

The Ohioan called upon President Roosevelt to "be more frank" with the American public regarding military base agreements with Great Britain or other foreign countries.

"If they are going to build these bases under the Lease-Lend Act why don't they say so," Taft asked. "It can be done guardedly and in general terms without revealing military secrets. It is probable that Germany knows of these operations long before the American public does."

"Such a policy," he said, "would relieve much of the unrest throughout the country that is occasioned by the attempted secrecy."

Referring to his assertion in the Senate that a base is being constructed in Northern Ireland, Taft said that he had been informed that 12 United States naval officers flew to London and then went to Ireland several weeks ago to take part in its construction.

Knox was reported also to have denied before the Naval Affairs Committee that the Navy had specific orders to open fire on German vessels, but emphasized at the same time that President Roosevelt has ordered the Navy to insure the delivery of war materials to Iceland.

It was reported also that Knox told the committee that he would not recede from his assertion in a speech that the Navy should strike now to clear the Atlantic of the Nazi "menace."

Other developments in the three-hour session, were, it was said, that one member of the committee urged that British troops should be removed from Iceland as quickly as possible on the grounds that their presence might cause the Nazis to launch a bombing attack, and endanger the lives of American sailors and marines, already there.

It was reported that the committee member felt that should such an incident occur it might result in "actual war" with Germany.

be served at 12 o'clock. This will take the place of the next regular meeting.

Members were informed that another meeting of the Grange will be held in the memorial house in Langhorne on Wednesday evening, August 6th. This will feature the regular business session and a literary program.

At the conclusion of the business session the members enjoyed group singing under the direction of Mollie Pickering, and a large number of children and adults took part in games and contests.

Discussing the question, "Does it pay the farmer to advertise?" at a meeting of the Kellers Church Grange, the master, Theodore Lewis, said generally the farmer will find it a paying proposition. Mr. Lewis said farmers with high standard graded products will find that it pays to advertise, but he said farmers who do not have good products to offer should not advertise.

In the opinion of Milton Hilmer nothing can be done at present to cut the cost of milk production. He stated that the labor and feed prices are high, but that the farmer receives a comparatively small return for his dairy products. In view of this, said Mr. Hilmer, the farmer can get little profit. He intimated that the consumer pays too high a price for his milk and that the producer gets too little.

The value of budgeting expenses on the farm was discussed by Martin Frei, who said because of uncertain conditions on the farm, it is impossible to carry out a budget program.

Mrs. George C. Butler, Doylestown, was elected secretary of Tyro Hall Grange to succeed Frank H. Lake, who served in this capacity for 17 years and who during all that time missed only two of the meetings.

The election of Mrs. Butler took place at the meeting, Wednesday, at which time Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Spratt were the hosts. The meeting, was featured by the presentation of a brief founders' day program under the direction of the lecturer, Mrs. George C. Hansell.

During the business session, which was in charge of the master, Harvey

R. Crouthamel, report was made by Watson D. Lake that 150 new chairs had been purchased for use in the Grange hall.

Benjamin Kirson, reporting for the legislative committee, spoke of the wheat referendum for acreage. He said very few states have voted against it, but some farmers, said Mr. Kirson, are disturbed because they feel the referendum is an encroachment upon their rights. Mr. Kirson said it must be admitted that the Agricultural Adjustment Act is a co-operative movement in the interest of the farmers. Clyde C. Leaver, who also spoke on the same subject, commented upon the apparent lack of interest on the part of the farmers.

Red Army Claims Holding Of Nazis On The East

MOSCOW, July 12—(INS)—German attacks on the Eastern front are being held back by the Red Army, the Soviet High Command asserted today, announcing in a communique that no substantial changes occurred on the front during the night.

The new war bulletin gave no further new concrete information and for the most part repeated statements made in an earlier announcement, which told of the two new Soviet victories which left nearly 2,000 Nazi warriors killed or wounded.

(An Ankara radio broadcast heard by Reuters (British) News Agency quoted Moscow reports as stating 8,000,000 recently mobilized Russian troops are now moving up to the war fronts to meet the German assaults.)

According to the Russian war communique, one of the new Russian triumphs occurred on the Bessarabian front where Soviet forces dislodged German and Romanian troops from a village, which the Russians then surrounded.

More than 700 enemy officers and men were said to have been killed in this encounter.

The other victory, which occurred on what was identified only as the "N" sector, 1,215 bodies of German officers and men were said to have been found after a sharp fight.

British Continue Bombing French Coastline

London, July 12—British bombers staged new attacks on the German-occupied French coastline today and residents of the southeast English coast heard explosions across the channel.

Later a formation of heavy RAF bombers, escorted by fighters, returned from the direction of Boulogne, where previously concentrated anti-aircraft fire had been heard.

During the night British bombers once again attacked Northwestern Germany while Nazi raiders pounded a convoy in the North Sea and dropped bombs on the northeast coast of Scotland.
